ADVENTURE BEGINS AT YOUR LIBRARY

Our summer reading program is in full swing, and we have lots of exciting events lined up this month. Here are a few of this month’s highlights.

STEM Summer Camp: Calling all 4th - 6th graders! If you love science experiments and problem-solving, this camp is for you. Registration required.

Touch a Truck: Mark your calendars. Kids (and kids at heart) can explore, climb, and touch real trucks. It’s fun for the entire family.

Teen 2sdays: Looking for a fun way to spend your Tuesday afternoons? Look no further. Connect with other teens while enjoying games, activities, and snacks.

Summer Soiree: Enjoy a delightful summer evening of live entertainment, food and beverages, silent auction, and more. Funds raised help to support the library.

Remember, reading is the ultimate adventure. There’s still plenty of time to pick up your reading log and earn prizes. All ages are invited to participate in the fun. See you at the library!

INDEPENDENCE DAY

Thursday, July 4
Biodiversity is an important marker for an ecosystem’s health. Healthy ecosystems ensure natural sustainability for all life forms and can better withstand and recover from a variety of disasters.

Use your smartphone and the kit’s clip-on lenses to help create a living record of life on Earth. By recording your observations on iNaturalist, you’ll create research-quality data for scientists working to understand and protect nature.

Pollinators are animals that assist plants in their reproductive cycles and are critical to our food supply. In recent years their populations have suffered severe declines, especially among honey bee colonies. This kit engages volunteers to help scientists understand and respond to changes in pollinator populations and the types of flowering plants that pollinators prefer from wherever they are.

Observing Pollinators and Exploring Biodiversity kits available now. Kits include everything you need to contribute to scientific research!

Ask for kits at the front desk. Research at home or state parks with the WA Discover Pass!
Visit: At the beginning of the month, visit the library to check out a copy of the book.
Read: Read aloud or listen to the audiobook together.
Meet: Come to the Adventurers Book Club at the library.
Keep the conversation going on your way home!
